YEAR-END LEADERSHIP LETTER: 2021

December 2021 with mid-2022 updates

KATIE MCKEON CURRAN, ESQ

President & CEO

Dear Friends:

2021 was a year of transition, growth, progress, and continued adaptability at the Connecticut Institute For Communities, Inc (CIFIC).

Transition

In mid-2021, CIFIC's visionary, founder, and first Chief Executive Officer (CEO), Jim Maloney, stepped down from this role and into a consulting role with CIFIC. On August 1, 2021, Katie stepped into the CEO role, and, over the balance of 2021, she continued to work towards our leadership goals, listened, and learned, all with the goal of maintaining CIFIC as the place from which to receive the highest quality services as well as a top place to work. Likewise, CIFIC welcomed new staff at all levels of the organization, from the executive level to managers and teachers.

Growth

Despite the wide-ranging and continued impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on our communities, CIFIC continued to grow in 2021, both physically and in the depth of its services. With the continued consulting assistance of our founder and our dedicated facilities staff, contractors, and funders, CIFIC broke ground on a new physical addition to our 120 Main Street, Danbury site in 2021, which will add much needed physical and dental exam rooms, a new acute care space, offices, and other amenities at our health center and headquarters in late 2022.

We're also pleased to report that our programs have re-bounded to "new normal" operating capacities and have seen growth in the number of individuals served:

- CIFIC's Early Learning Programs re-opened at almost full licensing capacity in both Danbury and Norwalk in 2021, with the capacity to serve a combined 523 children and their families. Although these programs were also open in 2020, all classrooms were previously open under reduced licensing capacity restrictions.

- The Harambee Youth Center re-opened in September 2021 with the launch of new arts classes funded with a grant from the State of Connecticut Office of the Arts Regional Initiative Program.
- CIFIC's Health Center, while breaking ground on new physical space, continued to serve over 14,000 patients with over 71,000 patient visits in 2021 through a combination of in person visits and telehealth in primary care adult medicine, pediatrics, behavioral health, women's health (OB/GYN), and family dentistry at multiple sites, including multiple School Based Health Centers. COVID testing was folded into our primary care operations in mid-2021 and available for established patients of the health center. CIFIC's Internal Medicine Residency Program graduated its 6th class of residents in 2021 – almost all of whom directly entered primary care upon graduation.
- The Women Infants and Children Nutrition (WIC) program exceeded their FY 2021 caseload by almost 13%, serving nearly 2500 individuals.
- The Beaver Street Apartments Cooperative (BSAC), which CIFIC manages, continues to serve as affordable housing for nearly 180 individuals in Danbury, including over 38 families with children and another 32 elderly or disabled individuals, and continued to undergo renovation and modernizing work in 2021.

Progress

It would be impossible to mention 2021 without discussing the impact of COVID-19 vaccinations on both our community and our staff. Since January 2021, CIFIC's Health Center joined health care providers around the nation in offering COVID-19 vaccines to all eligible. Demand was so great that we even opened a new site at 132 Main Street, Danbury, to make sure that COVID-19 vaccines were accessible to all in our community, not just to existing patients or to those who had the technical savvy to make appointments online.

CIFIC's Health Center closed out 2021 by providing nearly 20,000 vaccines (including vaccines to children and boosters). Our unique role as a community development organization that sees challenges holistically led to terrific, collaborative vaccine efforts with educators, our Early Learning Program families, the residents at the Beaver Street Apartments Cooperative, and many other community groups. Because of this, over 72% of vaccines given at the Health Center in 2021 were provided to those living in underserved communities.

We also ended 2021 with all CIFIC staff either vaccinated or working with an approved exemption, which makes our sites safer for all.

Adaptability

If we could use one phrase besides “hard working” to describe our dedicated staff in 2021, it would be “adaptable.” Our staff, across all programs, adapted to every change in regulatory and program rules, from mask wearing, social distancing, vaccination, in person versus virtual, telehealth and the like. Our staff jumped in to help wherever they were needed – whether that meant working a Saturday vaccination clinic or covering time in a new classroom. We wish there were more words and ways to say thank you to this amazing group of people, and we hope that you will join us in expressing gratitude for our staff's work.

What About 2022?

Halfway through 2022, we've expanded our services where we see real and continued need, particularly in pediatrics, behavioral health, women's health, and dentistry. The opioid crisis continues to be real and acute in our community and in Connecticut, and CIFIC answered this need by launching a Medication for Opioid Use Disorder (MOUD) program in the first half of 2022. We also re-branded CIFIC's Greater Danbury Community Health Center as CIFIC Health (more on that in the following pages of this report).

Likewise, CIFIC continues to work to address the growing demand for behavioral health services through the addition of new providers at its core sites and at new sites at schools in New Milford. Similarly, on the adult services side, CIFIC has been actively planning the start of a new psychiatry residency program, which we see as a program to both simultaneously meet the psychiatry needs in the community and train the next generation of psychiatrists dedicated to serving in medically underserved communities. In our Early Learning Programs, we look to add additional supports for our staff who continue to work with an increasing number of children with challenging behaviors, while also supporting our families working through these and the other profound challenges of this time.

And finally, we re-launched the Danbury Community Center at 12 Boughton St., Danbury and are making it a place for youth and families to enjoy swimming and recreational activities.

Danbury Community Center at 12 Boughton St.

These are just a few of the things we've accomplished in the first half of 2022. A full report on 2022's outcomes and projects will be available in our next annual report. In all of CIFIC's endeavors, the ultimate goal is top-quality services as a top employer of people.

We invite you to check on the progress of our work on our website and through social media, all of which have, and will continue, to undergo some positive changes in 2022: www.ct-institute.org.

We continue to be especially grateful to our friends who supported CIFIC's work in 2021 and in the first half of 2022.

With warmest wishes,

DR. FRANCIS J. MUSKA, PH.D.

CIFC EARLY LEARNING PROGRAMS

School Readiness: Preparing Children for Kindergarten:

Head Start provides a gold standard of school readiness programming that prepares the family, in addition to the enrolled child, for a life-long love of learning. Our programs focus on children meeting and exceeding the widely held expectations which include social, emotional, and physical development, cognitive development, and language and literacy. To foster a strong home and school connection, teachers and parents conduct home visits, conferences, and summer activities. Kindergarten transition is provided as a partnership with the Danbury Board of Education, which conducts an orientation for parents and children every spring. In Norwalk, Kindergarten transition is coordinated by Norwalk Acts in collaboration with Norwalk Public Schools. Our programs partner with both the Danbury and Norwalk Public School Districts to register incoming Kindergarteners with the district's support. More than 95% of our Head Start transitioning children register as incoming Kindergarteners with the respective district's support. Despite the impacts that the COVID-19 pandemic continued to have on the had on the 2020-2021 and 2021-2022 school years, the programs have continued to provide high-quality education and services to the children and families served.

Parent Involvement Activities:

Our Head Start and Early Head Start parents are deeply involved with our program, and all parents are members of their respective local Center Committee, which meets every other month. The Center Committee focuses on issues of local concern at the center, such as pedestrian safety, and elects' representatives to the Program's Policy Council. On alternate months, parents and other family members meet for program-wide virtual Family Engagement Network (FEN) events, which concentrate on a range of important life-skill practices. The program uses a research-based curriculum called Shine on Families which focuses on fostering stronger relationships between parents and children through a series of activities that align to their established family roadmaps.

Each child also has an assigned Family Advocate that formally meets with parents at least twice a year and has frequent informal (often daily) contact with parents. In addition, the classroom teachers meet with parents at least four times a year in full-year and part-year programs.

Our Fatherhood Coordinator makes a special, dedicated effort to involve male family members such as fathers, grandfathers, uncles, etc. in the program, and in the lives of their children – with virtual “Fatherhood” gatherings at least monthly.

The Policy Council meets each month (except July, August and December) to guide the overall conduct of the program and maintains collaboration with the CIFC Board of Directors.

Results of Most Recent Review:

The last Federal review of the Danbury and Norwalk Head Start/Early Head Start programs occurred in November 2019. As reported in CIFC's previous annual report, that Federal Review resulted in no findings for either program.

In other words, the programs were 100% compliant with the Federal Head Start Performance Standards.
